ANNOUNCING THE NANZAN UNIVERSITY CJS
VISITING FACULTY PROGRAM

Dear Friends,

This letter is to announce the Nanzan University Center for Japanese Studies (CJS) Visiting Faculty Program.

In order to strengthen collaborative efforts with its student exchange partner schools, every academic year, Nanzan University will invite from among its partner schools one faculty member in the field of Japanese Area Studies to teach and carry out his or her research at Nanzan University, CJS in exchange for remuneration for courses taught and a modest stipend. The details of the program are explained on the following pages.

The program will begin in the CJS spring (January-May 2017) semester. The application deadline is 31 December 2015 for this year. We realize that there is not much time before the application deadline, but please keep in mind that this is an annual program and we will be taking applications every year from now on.

We hope that this Visiting Faculty Program will help strengthen ties between our institutions by offering an opportunity for faculty from our partner schools to teach and carry out research at Nanzan University, as well as allow Nanzan CJS to enrich and diversify its program.

I would appreciate it very much if you could make the information about the program available to the faculty of the appropriate departments at your institution, such as Japanese and Asian Studies departments, as well as staff of the International Office. If you have any questions about the program, please do not hesitate to contact us: Nanzan University, Center for Japanese Studies, cie-exchange@ic.nanzan-u.ac.jp

With my best regards,

Masahiro Hoshino, Ph.D.
Director, Center for International Education
